

Warm Up:

Amir Zaki's photographs of skate parks differ wildly from typical photos of daredevil skateboarders.

1. Work alone or form small groups of three to four students.
2. Orient yourself toward the article by focusing on its headline, and the large-type pull-quotes. Look at the photos and images, but don't read the captions.
3. Discuss or jot down a sentence or two about what you think is the main idea of the story. Brainstorm a few questions you hope will be answered by the time you're done reading and working with the article.

4. When you've finished reading the article, go back to your questions and see if they have been answered.